

Take control of your travel program with Total Trip Insights

Integrate agency, expense and other third-party data for a full picture of your travel program

Go beyond traditional data consolidation and reporting

With constantly shifting market conditions and industry trends, access to multisource analytics is essential to stay ahead of the curve. Total Trip Insights, powered by Advito, allows you to consolidate first- and third-party data sources to paint a holistic picture of your travel program.

Through our integration, your Concur Expense data will automatically flow into Total Trip Insights and integrate with your agency data to provide a highly-visual analysis of your travel program.

Make data-driven decisions across all of your travel categories including air, hotel, car, meals and entertainment based on Total Trip Insights' predictive analytics and comprehensive spend analysis.

Unlock a 360° view of your travel program

Access detailed analysis into spend, program performance trends, and traveler behavior. Drill down into specific regions, business units, or even individual travelers to view the trends that matter most to you.

Build a multi-source data strategy

Seamlessly consolidate expense data, agency data and third-party sources to accurately measure travel program costs.

Pinpoint improvement opportunities

Uncover opportunities to reduce leakage, drive savings, improve compliance, shift traveler behavior, and more using advanced data visualization and predictive analytics.

Advito's data consolidation engine and dashboards deliver actionable insights for corporate travel programs.

Get started today!

